Dear Parents,

Re: Introducing Our New Head of Arabic

We are delighted to introduce Ms. Aysha Alghoul as the new Head of Arabic at Capital School. Ms. Aysha brings with her over 20 years of experience in education, including 13 years in leadership roles as Head and Coordinator of Arabic, and as a national subject team leader.

Her deep passion for the Arabic language and commitment to transformative learning experiences have shaped her career. Ms. Aysha is known for combining innovative teaching practices with a structured approach to curriculum development, ensuring that pupils are not only academically successful but also inspired and engaged.

As an educational leader, she fosters collaboration and professional growth among staff, encouraging reflective practice and continuous improvement. Her vision is to create a high-performing and nurturing environment where pupils thrive both academically and personally.

Ms. Aysha also values the essential role of parents in pupil success and is committed to maintaining open communication and shared goals. Her mission is to help pupils connect deeply with the Arabic language, appreciate its cultural richness, and develop a lifelong love of learning.

To welcome Ms. Aysha and give parents an opportunity to hear directly from her, we will be hosting a live-streamed welcome meeting on Wednesday, 5th November at 8:00 AM. During this session, Ms. Aysha will share her vision for the Arabic department and outline some of the exciting changes she is making to the team.

For those unable to attend live, the meeting will be recorded and made available for viewing at a later time.

We warmly encourage all parents to join us and be part of this important conversation.

Warm wishes,

Assheton Woodall
